A: Try this to download the right version: Kempe Towers Kempe Towers (also known as The Kempe) is a multi-building complex of residential skyscrapers in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, consisting of The Kempe (917 m), The Kempe II (944 m), and The Haven (1,217 m). Construction on The Kempe began in January 2000. The project was completed in September 2002 at a cost of $140 million, making it the 2nd highest cost project in the city's history. At the time of its completion, The Kempe was Edmonton's tallest residential building. It was surpassed by The Four Seasons on Macdonald Street in early 2003. Facilities The complex includes a roof top pool and fitness centre. The Kempe apartment complex contains 780 residential units.
